Contents of Volume 11

PSYCHOPHYSICS

Relational judgment of sound intensity by young children by A. L. Carter, K. S. Ricker, and D. A. Corsini, 1

Perceived numerosity by L. E. Krueger, 5

The effect of the induction of involvement on psychophysical judgments by S. Levine, 49

The anchor effects on the judgment of loudness using reaction time as an index of loudness by S. Namba, T. Yoshikawa, and S. Yasuda, 56

Weber's fraction for the intensity of pure tones presented binaurally by W. A. Yost, 61

Comparizons of intervals between subjective numbers by S. J. Rule, 97

The effect of neural density and contactor surround on vibrotactile sensation magnitude by R. T. Verrillo and S. C. Chamberlain, 117

Relative judgment: A phenomenon and a theory by D. F. Marks, 156

The effects of perspective alterations on apparent size and distance scales by J. M. Vogel and M. Teghtsoonian, 294

Brightness function: Role of the pupil by J. C. Stevens and L. E. Marks, 403

The power law for the perception of rotation by airline pilots by B. Clark and J. D. Stewart, 433

SIGNAL DETECTION

A comparison of auditory monitoring performance in blind subjects with that of sighted subjects in light and dark by L. H. Benedetti and M. Loeb, 10

Detection of changes in spatial position: Short-term visual memory or motion perception? by I. Pollack, 17

Response latency, confidence, and ROCs in auditory signal detection by D. S. Emmerich, J. L. Gray, C. S. Watson, and D. C. Tanis, 65

The effect of payoffs and cue tones on detection of sinusoids of uncertain frequency by M. J. Penner, 198

Concurrent variation of response bias and sensitivity in an operant-psychophysical test by M. Terman and J. S. Terman, 428

VISION (GENERAL)

Changes in the magnitude of simultaneous brightness contrast as a function of extended practice by K. Smith and M. Guilkey, 73

Frequency-specific color adaptation in the human visual system by B. G. Breitmeyer and L. A. Cooper, 95

Vision—from a wide mantel by F. A. Geldard, 193

Natural visual capture in bilateral length comparisons by J. T. Walker, 247

Fusion frequency as a function of number and phase of binocular stimuli by M. Fisher and M. Kinsbourne, 291

Luminous targets: Visibility fluctuations modified by similar verbal responses by D. Donderi and B. Miller, 299

Variation in hue of a contour-contingent aftereffect due to color adaptation during inspection of the stimulus patterns by J. Hirsch and G. M. Murch, 406

VISUAL MASKING

Binaural interaction in backward masking by T. R. Dolan and C. Trahiotis, 92

Visual discrimination of "unseen" objects: Forced-choice testing of Mayzner-Tresselt sequential blanking effects by I. Pollack, 121

FORM PERCEPTION

The assimilation theory of geometric illusions: An additional postulate by A. W. Pressey, 28

The effect of variation of frame shape on the angular function of the rod-and-frame illusion by H. C. Beh and P. M. Wenderoth, 35

The Sander illusion as a function of relative space and component lines by M. R. Cooper, R. P. Runyon, S. J. Tatz, and W. I. Heimer, 102

Reaction time to change in visual orientation by A. S. Gilinsky and H. H. Cohen, 129

An analysis of individual differences in similarity judgments about complex random forms by L. G. Richards, 143

The parallel-less Poggendorff: Virtual contours put the illusion down but not out by M. B. Goldstein and D. J. Weintraub, 353

The solitaire illusion: An illusion of numerosity by C. D. Frith and U. Frith, 409

SPACE PERCEPTION

Conditioned adaptation to prismatic displacement by J. H. Kravitz, 38

Seeing and hearing and space and time by N. O'Connor and B. Hermelin, 46

Adaptation in distance perception based on oculomotor cues by H. Wallach and K. J. Frey, 77

Adaptation to uniocular image magnification: Is the underlying shift proprioceptive? by W. Epstein, 89

The nature of adaptation in distance perception based on oculomotor cues by H. Wallach, K. J. Frey, and K. A. Bode, 110

Effects of rotating backgrounds upon the perception of verticality by P. C. Hughes, G. A. Brecher, and S. M. Fishkin, 135

On counteradaptation by H. Wallach and K. J. Frey, 161

A comparison of accommodative and fusional convergence as cues to distance by W. C. Gogel and R. D. Sturm, 166

Direction constancy by A. L. Hill, 175

Adjustments of visual tilt as a function of age by F. C. Volkmann and P. B. Pufall, 187

Stereoscopic acuity for photometrically matched background wavelengths at scotopic and photopic levels by R. H. Young and A. Lit, 213

Spatial determinants of depth perception in two-dot motion patterns by E. Börjesson and C. Von Hofsten, 263

Estimating the vertex of converging lines: Angle misperception? by D. J. Weintraub and V. Virsu, 277

The extraretinal signal for the visual perception of direction by A. A. Skavenski, G. Haddad, and R. M. Steinman, 287

The retinal reference of the tilt aftereffect by M. Coltheart and C. M. Cooper, 321

Stimulus control and the growth of the infant's effective visual field by E. Tronick, 373

Stabilized images: Functional relationships among populations of orientation-specific mechanisms in the human visual system by M. J. Schmidt, M. P. Cosgrove, and D. R. Brown, 389

Stabilized images: Dependent variable specificity of pattern-specific effects with prolonged viewing by M. P. Cosgrove, M. J. Schmidt, D. D. Fulgham, and D. R. Brown, 398

Visual and proprioceptive adaptation to altered oculomotor adjustments by H. Wallach and A. Smith, 413

Effects of voluntary eye movement and convergence on the binocular appreciation of depth by J. M. Foley and W. Richards, 423

Peripheral stimuli and stereoacuity under water by S. M. Luria and J. A. S. Kinney, 437

MOTION PERCEPTION

Differences in the dissipation of the effect of adaptation to two kinds of field displacement during head movements by H. Wallach and K. J. Frey, 31

Perceived common rotary motion of ambiguous stimuli as a criterion of perceptual grouping by B. Gillam, 99

The adjacency principle and induced movement by W. C. Gogel and M. Koslow, 309

HEARING
Changes in auditory flutter fusion frequency during prolonged visual deprivation by C. H. Pangman and J. P. Zubek, 172
Human auditory-evoked response: Specific effects of signal strength and performance criterion by D. A. Benson and D. C. Teas, 203
Auditory evoked brain responses: Intensity functions from bipolar human scalp recordings by D. I. Tepas, L. A. Boxerman, and A. M. Anch, 217
The effect of structure and rate on the recognition and description of auditory temporal patterns by D. Preusser, 233
Asymmetry of masking between noise and tone by R. P. Hellman, 241
Computer signal detection by monitoring auditory evoked potentials by J. W. Bauer, K. C. Squires, and P. H. Lindsay, 301
Octave generalization and tune recognition by D. Deutsch, 411

CHEMICAL AND CUTANEOUS SENSES
Difference threshold for intensity of tactile stimuli by J. C. Craig, 150
Gustatory cross adaptation between sweet-tasting compounds by D. H. McBurney, 225
Gustatory cross adaptation: Sourness and bitterness by D. H. McBurney, D. V. Smith, and T. R. Shick, 228
Perceptual changes in taste mixtures by H. R. Moskowitz, 257

RECOGNITION AND RECALL
Recognition memory for pitch of fixed and roving stimulus tones by A. R. Bull and L. L. Cuddy, 105
Preferred recall order and recall accuracy for two messages presented simultaneously over a single auditory channel by H. Rollins, M. Everson, and D. L. Schurman, 153
Scanning memory for multidimensional stimuli with extended practice by J. Dumas, 209
Letter recognition: Effects of interitem similarity and report requirements by L. K. Miller, 252
Modality effects in retrieval of information from short-term memory by D. Burrows, 365
The relation between lisping and visual recognition memory in children by R. G. Crowder and K. L. Davis, 393
Successive vs simultaneous processing of superimposed visual stimuli by D. L. Schurman, M. D. Everson, and H. A. Rollins, 420

INFORMATION PROCESSING
Visual-manual commonality in size judgments by A. L. Sockloff and B. Kempler, 284
Matching patterns vs matching digits: The effect of memory dependence and complexity on "same"-"different" reaction times by J. G. Snodgrass, 341
Latencies for movement naming with congruent and incongruent word stimuli by F. N. Dyer, 377

PERFORMANCE
Preference for tones as a function of frequency (hertz) and intensity (decibels) by P. C. Vitz, 84
Hemispheric differences in a letter classification task by G. Cohen, 139
Effects of focusing strategy on speeded classification with grouping, filtering, and condensation tasks by R. L. Gottwald and W. R. Garner, 179
Lack of bilateral generalization of adaptation to auditory rearrangement by H. H. Mikaelian, 222
Associative facilitation and interference in the Stroop color-word task by E. C. Dalrymple-Alford, 274
Visual temporal integration and simple reaction time by M. L. Kietzman and B. J. Gillam, 333
The locus of interference in the Stroop and related tasks by E. C. Dalrymple-Alford and J. Azkoul, 385

VERBAL PROCESSES
Noncategorical perception of a voiced stop: A replication by J. R. Barclay, 269
Hemispheric specialization for the perception of speech sounds: The influence of intonation and structure by E. B. Zurif and M. Mendelsohn, 329
Lateral asymmetry in the perceived sequence of speech and nonspeech stimuli by P. Bertelson and F. Tisseyre, 356
Does implicit speech in same-different decisions extend to nonsense forms? by S. T. Klapp and D. M. Bischoff, 363
Clause structure of sentences and speech processing by R. J. Jarvella and S. J. Herman, 381
Discrimination of vowel sounds of very short duration by C. Y. Suen and M. P. Beddoes, 417

ATTENTION AND SEARCH
Search processes for detecting repeated items in a visual display by J. P. Cavanagh and J. M. Parkman, 43
Some characteristics of selective attention in visual perception determined by vocal reaction time by C. W. Eriksen and J. E. Hoffman, 169
The effect of orthographic structure on letter search by E. J. Gibson, Y. J. Tenney, R. W. Barron, and M. Zaslow, 183
On the locus of the divided-attention effects by G. E. Briggs, G. L. Peters, and R. P. Fisher, 315
Types and frequency of errors in visual search by M. W. Kristofferson, 325
Parallel and competing operations in visual and memory search by M. Fisher and M. Kinsbourne, 350
